THE POSTAL SCANDALS TO BE THOROUGHLY SIFTED.

Mr. Payne Says He Has no Favorites to Protect-ex-Congressman Loud Says Conditions in the Department Have Been Disgraceful for a Long Time.

WASHINGTON, May 4.-Interest in the investigation of alleged irregularities and fraucis in the Post Office Department was revived to-day by the visit of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts and former Congressman Loud of California, who was chairman of the House Committee on Post Omoss, to Postmaster-General Payne. There is no evidence that either of them called for the express purpose of discussing the details of the investigations being carried on by Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Bristow, but enough gossip followed their visits to bring out the fact that Postmaster-General Payne professes to be more than ever determined to thoroughly sift every charge, big and little, that has been made against any officer of his department. It has been charged that Mr. Payne is disposed to treat the scandal very gingerly, and to get rid of the whole unpleasant subject at an early date, in order that it may be forgotten before the political campaigns are on. The Postmaster-General indignantly denies this, however, and says that he has no favorites to protect, and no desire to hush up any phase of the unfortunate situation. Many of the cases of wrongdoing are alleged to have taken place long before he became Postmaster-General, so that he is not personally involved in them, but being the politician of the Cabinet he is constantly credited with a desire to whitewash everybody for political reasons.

The fact was developed to-day, however, that Mr. Payne may not be able to do this, even should be seriously make the attempt. It was pointed out to him by his callers that the people of the country have become so throughly imbued with the idea that there is something wrong in the Post Office Department that it will be necessary for him to remove the offending officers whether he wants to do

Although nobody in the Post Office Department except the Postmaster-General is informed from day to day as to what Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Bristow's investigation is developing, the belief has become general that it has already been determined to ask several officers to resign. either because of what Bristow's investigation has already found or in order that obstructions to a thorough and impartial investigation may be removed.

As the head and front of the Post Office Department troubles, real and imaginary, probably the first man to go will be Augustus W. Machen, chief of the Rural Free Delivery Service, the Gold Democrat about whose official head all of the storm of scan-Matters have reached such a point in the Department that it is plain to be seen that First Assistant Postmaster-General Wynne, who brought on the present investigation by denouncing Machen and the former chief of the Salary and Allowance Division, George W. Beavers, who resigned with sudden and suspicious haste some weeks ago, and Machen cannot both remain on duty in the Department. Charges against on duty in the Department. Charges against Mr. Machen have not yet been proved, but the friction caused by the bad feeling between himself and Mr. Wynne is such that one or both of them will have to leave the Department.

Mr. Machen has been all along described by his friends as a man of iron nerve, so firm in the knowledge that he is innocent of any wrongdoing that he has gone about the performance of his daily duty apparently proof against the attacks upon him. He has begun to weaken under the strain, however, and plainly shows the effect of worry and nervous excitement. Being protected by the civil service rules and regulations Mr. Machen could not be summarily removed if the investigation should demonstrate his innocence. but he would by his friends as a man of iron nerve, so demonstrate his innocence, but he would probably be willing to resign if an official certificate to the effect that the charges against him had not been sustained be the Brooklyn Hospital yesterday morning, Sun office.

General to-day and he talked as follows

to the newspaper men:

"This investigation was something that had to come. The Department has been excessively lavish and extravagant—criminally so. I have stated this on the floor of the House many times. The conditions there have been, and are, simply disgraceful. But Congress would never cut down the estimates. The organization of the Post Office Department is such that the different bureaus work independently. Mr. Bristow is entirely competent to carry on the in-vestigations and he has the reports of trained inspectors under him who undoubtedly worked without fear or favor. I think that the investigation will develop some highly interesting facts."

CAUGHT STEALING; SHE'S GLAD. Woman Arrested Had Bank Books Besides Lot of Stolen Stuff. Detective John Larkin, employed in a

Sixth avenue dry goods store to look out for shoplifters, arrested in the store, yesterday afternoon, a young woman dressed in black, whom he saw steal $15.78 worth of Larkin watched the woman for an hour before he arrested her. When she was searched, she not only had the goods the detective saw her steal, but she had $35 worth of property stolen from other stores. Most of it was silk, which she had pinned to her underclothing. Smaller articles she had stuffed in her stockings. When Larkin told the woman she was under arrest she "My God, I'm glad I've been caught at

At Fifth avenue and Eighteenth street one of the horses fell and was unable to rise. Surgeon Matthew Cochran of the New York Veterinary Hospital arrived in answer to a message and Mrs. Carlisle told him she wanted everything possible done for the animal. The horse was taken in the horse ambulgance to the hospital.

MAID WORE MISTRESS'S GOWNS. Stole Them, Too, It Is Charged, and Wore

Them to "Colored Balls." Hattie Watson, a negro servant in the employ of Mrs. Laura Frazier, at 451 West End avenue, was arraigned yesterday in the West Side police court charged with stealing about $300 worth of clothes from her mistress. Magistrate Hogan held her in $500 bail for examination.

Mrs. Frazier said that her servants had appeared to consider the servants and the servants had appeared to consider the servants and the servants are servants. appeared to consider her wardrobe their property. One of them, she said, even wore her gowns to "colored balls."

HITCH IN LIQUOR TAX LAW. Conflict Between the Amended and Unamended Sections.

The Justices of the Court of Special Sessions are in a quandary as to what sentence to impose upon persons who have been arrested for selling liquor without a license since April 2 last, when the new Liquor Tax law went into effect. They will be in the same fix until Gov. Odell signs a bill now before him to amend section 24 of the old Liquor Tax law, providing a punishment for excise violators.

The old law provides a punishment of not less than $200 and not more than $1,000, providing that the latter amount equals the amount of the liquor tax in the city where the violation occurred. When the law was taken in hand by the legislators, the amount of the liquor tax was increased to $1,200, but no increase was made in the amount of the maximum fine to be imposed in case of violation.

Because of the delay in fixing a new penalty, the section of the law providing for the amount of the liquor tax and the section fixing the punishment present a rather jumbled appearance when put together. In plain English, the law now provides for a maximum penalty of $1,000, providing that amount equals the amount of the liquor tax in this city, which is $1,200. in this city, which is $1,200.

in this city, which is $1.200.

When Francis Cappoli, who keeps a restaurant at 133 Mott street, was convicted in Special Sessions of selling liquor without a license, Presiding Justice Wyatt confronted the puzzle of 10 equals 12 and, after thinking it over, passed it to Justice Mayer, who has made a study of the Liquor Tax law. It was too much for Justice Mayer, and Justice McKeon also confessed that he couldn't solve the problem. couldn't solve the problem.

After a consultation the Court decided to continue Cappoli on ball until the puzzle which the combination of the amended and unamended chapters of the law present is The District Attorney will submit a brief on the subject, and an attempt will b to straighten matters out temporarily.

DID YOU GO TO ANGER'S PARTY?

Politicians Out in Force-What a Story the Phonograph Has to Tell! August C. Anger, who for many years ran a large bakery on the East Side with his brothers, Louis J. and John A., but who retired several years ago, celebrated his silver wedding last night in Tuxedo Hall.

Many prominent politicians were present. Anger has achieved something of a reputation as a practical joker. He is credited with being the first man to play a joke on August J. Gloistein. He induced Gloistein to anchor a boat full of his friends over spiles, and when the tide went out Gloistein and his friends remained in the boat on top the spiles for twelve hours.

Anger was always regarded as the moving spirit in the scrapes that Pat Connolly, the former Mayor of Poverty Hollow, got into.

During the local campaign against Tammany Hall, Anger was a stanch adherent of John C. Sheehan.

Anger lives at 73 East Eighty-fifth street. Among those present to congratulate him last night were President Jacob A. Cantor, the Hon. John C. Sheehan, Louis Kramer, former Assemblyman William Hoops, Charlie Kirschner, the Jersey City trottinghorse owner: William McCormack, the Hon. Florrie Sullivan, Congressman Goldfogle, the Hon. Chrystie Sullivan, former Assembly man Charles S. Adler and August J. Gloistein.

After the festivities had been going on for several hours, Anger induced many of his guests to make speeches into a phonohis guests to make speeches into a phonograph for future reproduction.

"I expect," said Anger, later, "that Weber and Fields will be after the record made by Gloistein. I have got the finest collection of records ever made in this town."

Pat Connolly talked into the phonograph, at Anger's suggestion, on the subject of "physical force to free Ireland." Then Gloistein and Connolly were forced into an argument regarding the brewery interests in New York, and they nearly came to blows. The phonograph duly recorded the dialogue.

YOUNG HOEY" TAKES A WIFE. Sister of Mrs. Maxfield, Who Married on the Toss of a Cent Last Week.

Miss Lillian Godwin of 526 Bedford avenue, Williamsburg, whose sister Helen was married last week to Hiram Maxfield in the Little Church Around the Corner after Maxfield had tossed up a cent in the Waldorf-Astoria to decide whether or not he should marry, was married on Sunday night in Calvary Episcopal Church, Marcy avenue and South Ninth street, by the Rev. Dr. Cornelius L. Twing, to John Hoey, a member of the Payton Theatre stock company in Williamsburg. Hoey is a son of George Hoey, the comedian attached to the same theatre.

Miss Goodwin is wealthy in her own right, and at the death of her grandmother will inherit another big legacy. She is 24 years old and Hoey is 22.
